OK Waveland Planning Body

Waveland's mayor and board of supervisors took three more steps toward possible zoning ordinance on Friday, unanimously passing an ordinance authorizing a commission (see text page 6), the mayor appointing a planning commission and the board entered into a contract with an engineer to make the study and recommendations.

Appointed to the planning commission were W. Ray Gordon, temporary chairman, one year, Dean James M. Robert, one year, James deBlanc, three years, Dr. John F. Dicks, four years, and Joseph V. Colson, five years.

Commission members as well as council, before the latter entered into a contract, asked Bernard Dornblatt, consulting engineer and a New Orleans planning commission member, several questions including his thoughts on the advantages of zoning for Waveland, which is not as comprehensive as the full zoning council had earlier approved because of cost. The engineer said, while you couldn't create everyone, proper zoning would help "develop Waveland in an orderly way and make for a more pleasant Waveland". He also told them it would protect property values and he saw "advantages over disadvantages".

Waveland Planners To Organize Friday

Waveland's newly created planning commission will have its organization meeting at 4 p.m. Friday at Waveland Town Hall, W. R. Gordon, acting chairman, has announced.

Because of other civic obligations, Gordon said he will not be a candidate for election as permanent chairman. It was indicated this post will go to Joseph V. Colson, local realtor.

To Gordon's question as to whether zoning, if adopted, would be retroactive, Dornblatt said no. He added that where land is being used in a manner contrary to the requirements of a zoning ordinance, such as a business in a residentially classified area, at the time the ordinance was passed it could continue to be so used unless materially enlarged. Town Attorney Don M. Russell remarked that as he understood a recent decision a limit of 15 years could be imposed.

Dornblatt said his firm would prepare a land and street use map, prepare a suggested ordinance and suggested by-laws for the commission and furnish a cloth map, including property lines, for $2,300, unless unusual circumstances arose and the additional cost would be only his expense, which extra work would be undertaken with council's permission. When Russell later pointed out that the proposed contract did not spell out the limitation of requiring council's permission before undertaking the extra expense, he and Dornblatt made that modification in the proposal.

One other change was made before council unanimously agreed to the contract. Instead of full payment at the completion of the engineer's work, Dornblatt agreed to accept one-half at that time with the other half to be paid in next October after the next fiscal year commenced. Not having budgeted for this expense council felt it would be difficult to find the full amount from other budgeted expenses this year.

To the question as to when his firm would complete the work, Dornblatt answered "within 60 to 90 days". He also advised council that he felt any decision on zoning matters by either the commission or council should require three affirmative votes to provide for cases where one

Santa To Arrive At Parade Dec. 2

The next three weeks are guaranteed to fly by. That's how long it is before Christmas and to bring the spirit of the holiday to Bay St. Louis Santa Claus is scheduled to arrive at the toll bridge about 2 p.m. Saturday.

A parade, annually sponsored by Kern's 5 and 10, will herald this entry. Taking part in addition to St. Nick himself will be Ellen Allison, local rodeo queen, and Ann Roberts, Sidel's camellia queen of 1961.

The Rebel Riders drill team from the Lazy Y Stables will join in the fun, accompanying the parade along the Beach to Union Street, thence to Toulame Street and on to Main Street where Santa will set up headquarters at Kern's.

Downtown businessmen already have erected one lot of Christmas lighting but it won't be turned on until additional displays are in place. On U. S. 90 there is again Industrial Electric, Inc.'s giant Santa and Reindeer display is in place on the grounds of St. Augustine Seminary.

IN YULE PARADE - Ann Roberts, Sidel's camellia queen, will ride in ante-bellum costume in the Santa Claus parade in downtown Bay St. Louis Saturday afternoon.

Four Kids Charged in Break-ins

Four juvenile vandals, sought since Thanksgiving for break-ins at the Dairy Queen and Kingston's Barber Shop, were arrested Monday night by officers and city law enforcement officers.

The boys ranged in age from eight to 11 years and are slated to appear on the offenses before Youth Referee Nellus Rhodes after Jan. 1. They are now in custody of their parents.

Sheriff Gerald V. Price said the group was apprehended by City Police Chief Alcine Saucier, Officer Leatham Corrig and Deputy Gerald Price, Jr., and Ronald LeFountain. They took an assortment of cigarettes, candy, pennies, hot dogs, pellet guns and air rifles from both places and left them in pretty much of a shambles, the sheriff reported.

The sheriff's office today was notified by the Ohio Probation and Parole Bureau that Robert Lee Allen, picked up here last week with Filadelfo Herrera of Mexico, has been a fugitive since Aug. 14, 1957. He was sentenced by an Ohio court to one to 20 years on a stolen automobile charge. Allen has signed extradition papers and Deputy Price was advised Columbus, O., authorities will pick him up shortly. Herrera was taken in custody last week by a U. S. Marshal in connection with the theft of a car from Del Rio, Tex.

Also today, City Patrolman Jack Lader charged two motorists with failure to yield right of way as the result of collision shortly before noon at U. S. 90 and the toll bridge. They were released on $25 bond to appear in mayor's court Tuesday night.

Frederick Kullman of New Orleans was headed north of Beach Blvd., toward the highway while Ray A. Butterfield of Phoenix, Ariz., was traveling east on

Siding Slip Is Fatal to Conductor

A veteran Louisville and Nashville Railroad conductor was fatally injured Friday afternoon in a train accident at Claiborne while he was trying to get ready for the northbound freight to which he was assigned.

Sheriff Gerald V. Price said Norman Havens, 64, of DeShane, Ala., was killed when he slipped and fell under the wheels of the southbound freight he had flagged in an effort to get help for his train out of New Orleans.

The accident occurred about 2:15 p.m. after the Mobile-bound freight, No. 668, had broken down some time earlier. According to information given the sheriff, Havens had flagged down the southbound freight, No. 661, which had slowed down to let him get aboard after the conductor had tried to make several phone calls for help. No. 661 was traveling with four engines and M. H. Covart as engineer, R. L. Sellers as conductor and P. March as fireman.

In addition to Havens, staff

Beat 1 Forms Liaison Body, Baxter Is Head

Roy Baxter, Jr., of Logtown was named chairman of a liaison committee elected by Beat 1 residents to assist with the transition of a large part of the district to a lunar landing static test area at a mass meeting of the committee involved Tuesday night at Logtown School.

A resolution also was adopted requesting that the area be designated the Gainesville testing site inasmuch as it takes in the community which many years ago was the county seat rather than Hancock County as sought by the board of supervisors. Citizens were asked to write the U. S. Senators and Congressmen in behalf of this name.

The five-member committee representing the same number of major communities in the beat has been assigned the task of correlating opinions of the citizens and presenting recommendations to Beat 1 Supervisor Charles A. Russ for consideration by the county's governing body.

Elected to the committee were August Moran, Ansley, Alfred Donnaud, Pearlington; Baxter from Logtown; Charles B. Murphy, Napoleon, and Graydon Keller, Gainesville.

The slate was presented by J. F. Carter of Pearlington, designated chairman for the mass meeting which drew some 125 residents to the Logtown School gymnasium. The nominees were accepted unanimously, Carter said.

Carter also proposed the establishment of a civic organization to represent the beat on a non-political basis but to coordinate various school, church and civic activities in the western section of Hancock County.

Those attending the meeting indicated concurrence with the idea and Baxter was named chairman of the group to set up a continuing organization in the beat. While Baxter first refused to accept the post, being unfamiliar with Carter's plan, he later agreed to take it on.

State Rep. Clarence M. Lader spoke briefly to the group on transferences since the county delegations visited Cape Canaveral, Fla., and Huntsville, Ala., which have experienced similar National Aeronautics and Space Administration projects.

Standard Exchange Survey Near Ready

Canvass of the north county area soon to be served by a new telephone exchange at Standard has been almost completed, J. C. Dabney, Gulfport group manager for Southern Bell, said today. He asked anyone who has been missed in the check and who desires service with the new system to contact the Pass Christian business office.

Two committees designed to ease the growing pains experienced here during the next few years as a result of the opening of the Michoud plant and the establishment of the NASA test site in Hancock County were set up at a meeting Monday night attended by about 30 citizens.

Members of the board of supervisors, Bay St. Louis Commission Council and Waveland Town Council constitute the Hancock County Coordinating and Advisory Committee with the state representative as an ex-officio member. It will meet the first Wednesday after the first Monday of each month. This date was chosen because each of the three governing bodies would have a regular meeting within two prior days.

Board of Supervisors President R. G. Hubbard was elected chairman, Mayor Garfield Lader vice chairman, and Mayor John Scudif, secretary. An executive and public relations committee with one member selected from each governing body still to be named.

Recent visits by several local officials to Huntsville, Ala., and Cape Canaveral, Fla., sites of other NASA operations indicated the need for such committee for coordinating local efforts and in addition, public relations, zoning, planning and explaining developments to the people will officially come in the committee's province.

The other committee, Rural Area Development, is composed of Hubert Thigpen, chairman; K. G. McCarty, vice chairman; O. C. Swartz, and other members as the chairman appoints. This was set up after D. W. Rivers, executive secretary of the state RAD, explained the possibility of the county obtaining funds for improvements such as sewerage under the Area Development Act, administered by the U. S. department of commerce.

Seawall Bills, Test Site Name Occupies Board

How to curtail seawall maintenance fund expenditures after a staggering $9,000 claim docket last month and additional efforts to get the federal government's new lunar landing static test site here named for Hancock County were among major items before the board of supervisors Monday morning.

While no vote was taken, the board generally agreed to follow more carefully the four-man limit from each beat on the seawall staff which they imposed upon themselves some time ago.

President R. G. Hubbard, Jr., brought up the matter, noting that the county can't afford more than the previously agreed minimum. Supervisors had to transfer $5,000 from another fund to seawall maintenance earlier this month to meet the October payroll.

Supervisor L. M. Frierson of Beat 2 observed he'd like to know where the $9,000 came from and Hubbard replied that two equipment repair bills made up a large chunk of the figure. He noted that the minimum of four men each would run the payroll alone to $4,000 at $7 a day and very little concrete for repair work was purchased. Hubbard added that with equipment in his own beat he had found it possible to cut a business firm's estimate of $1,200 on a job to just over $100 by doing repairs with his own men. "You've got to watch those guys," he cautioned his colleagues.

James D. Neelise of Beat 4 explained that the four men he used on the seawall account had large families so he found it necessary to work them full-time. He inquired about cutting the allotment to three men per beat to ease finances but Hubbard suggested waiting another month to determine the trend.

Clerk Claiborne Lader, checking his books on prior dockets, found the claims were ranging between $4,000 and $6,000 a month and observed that not all would be due shortly from four of the county's five beats to further into finances.

Hubbard was authorized to exert further efforts toward getting the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to name its test site in the Gainesville area for Hancock County after noting a trend of referring to it as the "South Mississippi" site. Board Attorney Lucien Gex suggested advancing the loss the county will suffer by losing almost 40 per cent of area for the federal project, cautioned also that it should be referred to as an engine test site, not one for missiles since the will not be checked out here.

Hubbard reported acknowledgment of either telegram on the name from Senators James

At Waveland

As the last sliver of Thanksgiving turkey has been digested in the form of lovely hash and the festive lights with days clear and bright, the remains of the dressing (we always make too much) — it begins once more — our annual attack of Yule fever. For roughly 350 days, since last Dec. 26, in fact, we've known that the season of mistletoe and holly would arrive on schedule — yet it's with a bit of guilty shock we realize that each nearly perfectly shaped pine, spruce or cedar tree appears to our eyes completely decked out in lights, bangles and tinsel; every pyracantha or yucca, a colorful arrangement flanked by matching candles and a holly tree is a whole bunch of wreaths bound with bright red bows — unseasonably, in this onset, the temperature fairly suddenly begins to bring on any direct action, we are content to enjoy thinking about the joyous season for a week or so until one day that horrible little bird in the lower left hand corner of the morning paper states with cold clarity, 5 MORE SHOPPING DAYS 'TIL CHRISTMAS, and the race begins. However, while we are still in a calm state of mind, we'll have a leisurely look around and see how the local entry enjoyed the long holiday weekend.

Weather Is Divine

For the benefit of our "Yanke" readers, we'll rub in the fact that the weather was heavenly—cool, bright with days clear and warm enough for fishing, boating, picnicking and the like.

Family dinners were the order of the day Thursday, visiting and Jim Mayfield were Jim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mayfield of New Albany, Alabama. The Thomas Brockmans, Norman Halls and Lynne spent 'turkey day' in Hattiesburg as guests of Ott and family. Gertrude and Norman journeyed to Mobile for the day Friday. Isobel and Mel Villere enjoyed the company of granddaughter Donna Lawson, who calls Louisville, Ky. home.

The Walter Damiens also had a family group on the big day, as did the James McConnells. Mrs. William Bradford and son Billy, a vacation from Stanislaus were seated at their Morris St. home. Mrs. C. C. Hays were Dr. C. C. "Duke", Mrs. Hays and sons Amy, who almost but not quite, gave an exhibition of the winter. Mrs. co-worker, Ellis Cuevas enjoyed his well earned holiday—since Jane Taconi was the guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Isabel and Tony Monti. Jane and Brewster Mollere took the children to Biloxi where they rode everything there was to ride in the amusement park.

Emily and Jimmy Baker, Caryl Faye, the twins Billy and Bobby and little Charlie visited Emily's parents, Faye and Robert Vaughn. Faye and Florette McKay and Sally Yarbrough spent the holidays with the A. W. McKays and Claude Yarbroughs at their adjacent McCallum Ave. homes.

Summer residents who flocked over included the Charlie Dargatzis and Warren Thibodeaux, the Richard Hagans, the Eugene Hartels, the A. W. Stahls, Bonner and David Dahlgren, Lorraine and George Fanning, the Charles Shambleys, the Chris Arons, the Dunlups of Market Street, the Alexander Genevains, the Leo Pedarres and the James Costellos.

Altar Society Dinner

Jimmy Lagasse, newly elected president of the Holy Name Society of St. Clare's, has requested that we suggest to any of our readers who might happen to be in the dog house—get on the good side of your spouse—try her to a delicious roast beef dinner on Sunday, Dec. 10, at the parish hall. . . the proceeds will be used to purchase toys and candy for the children to enjoy at the annual Christmas Party. A full course dinner, to be eaten at the hall or when home, will cost only $1.25 for adults, 75 cents for children. Tickets are now on sale at the Waveland Drug Store, may be obtained by calling Jimmy at HO 7-4813, or by contacting any member of the Holy Name Society.

While on the subject of benefits, we'll remind you once more that the Altar Society sponsored rummage sale is now in progress on Coleman Ave. and that donations are being accepted at the Christmas Bazaar to be given soon at Our Lady of the Gulf Cafeteria. Each and every item on sale at this event will be hand made and homemade. The door prize is to be a portrait painted by the very talented Barbara (Mrs. Bert) Quigley.

Get Well Wishes

Mrs. Helen Nadel recently returned from fractured shoulder. He visited her Aunt Letitia, an arthritic patient who had suffered a broken arm in a fall. Mrs. Nadel and William Bozeman plan to ride to New York soon and bring Aunt Letty to Waveland to make her home with her niece.

Phyl Lagasse spent the weekend in the Crescent City where she was joined by her cold suffering husband, Jimmy, on Sunday. They attended the wedding of niece Lurline, daughter of the George Jones, to Charles Solnet.

Linda and Tommy Kidd dined with Tommy's parents, Lorraine and Ray on Thursday, but their holiday was interrupted when little Tommy became quite ill with a chest congestion and they rushed him to a New Orleans hospital. . . hope he's much better as we go to press.

It appears that Beach Blvd. from the Yacht Club to the seawall's is being used as a drag strip by local hot rodders — last Saturday night a number of cars were seen speeding through the fog at hair-raising pace. . . the drag racers are not only endangering their own lives, but also those of other drivers.

Welcome to Waveland to Mrs. Joyce Cook, who recently purchased home on Amar Avenue in Waveland Heights and a reluctant farewell to Mrs. Sam Keen who is deserting us for the metropolis of New Orleans.

Parents were treated to a glimpse of their little darling's school activities Wednesday when Boy Central schools held open house after school recess.

Guastella-Schwander Vows Are Said in New Orleans

At a nuptial mass Nov. 11 in St. Rose Catholic Church, New Orleans, Miss Linda Anne Schwander, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lawrence Schwander, Jr., became the bride of Rosario Joseph Guastella, son of Mrs. Frank Guastella and the late Mr. Guastella, with Rev. Clinton J. Doskey officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Vows were exchanged before the altar adorned with gold vases filled with arrangements of white gladioli, stock and mums on each side of the tabernacle and floor baskets of the same arrangements and palms on either side. A souvenir of a nuptial mass missal inscribed with the name of the bride and groom and wedding date was presented each guest. Before leaving the church the bride presented a bouquet of white carnations to the blessed Mother.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white peau de soie, the fitted bodice fashioned with a scooped neckline outlined in appliques of Alencon lace, and long sleeves ending in Calla points over the hands. Tiny white covered buttons fastened the sleeves and back bodice. The bouffant skirt that swept back to form a cathedral train, was adorned in the front and sides with appliques of Alencon lace encrusted with seed pearls and crystals. Her full length veil of silk illusion was held by a crown of seed pearl and crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli and lily of the valley center with a white orchid.

Miss Jerelyn Ann Pointe was maid of honor. Bride maids were Misses Edna Bourgeois, cousin of the bride, Jo Anne Caruso and Sylvia Miller. Junior bridesmaids were Charlotte Piazza, cousin of the bride, and Judy Saurio. They wore street length dresses of pale orchid peau de soie with full skirts and were trimmed with a deep purple velvet bow at the back waistline and roses of the same hue on the sides. They wore matching veiled head pieces and carried Hunter in their Sunday go-to-meetin's, Richard Proctor, Jr., visiting from Clermont Harbor and K. B. Thompson and Clem Penrose, the only two gentlemen we know who appear just as dignified in Bermudas as if they were decked out in full morning attire!

John Birch

For some time now there has been a lot of nationally published extreme criticism of an organization called "The John Birch Society." We know very little about the group, but we know a member as such but recently the paper has been mailing list for the organization's small monthly bulletin and we have carefully read three of these.

The society's avowed aim is to fight Communism and our siding would indicate that its primary tool is through political defeat of those we refer to as liberals and possibly moderates. Their November bulletin says "Fully and correctly are that the specific VEAPON by which the Communists are stopped is political action."

The politics it advocates may be unrealistic and ultra conservative, such as their repeated reminder that this country is a republic and not a democracy. While technically the United States is a representative republic and the society is correct, Drew Pearson to the contrary, our people through age think of it as a democracy complete with the distinction between the words. We in the South presently might well refer the republic concept since it is more in line with the states rights belief. The society is also very anti-U.N., sometimes a lot of us are.

In any event, one main criticism leveled in a malicious manner at the John Birch Society is that it is extreme right wing, this coming frequently from those who are extreme left wing. Since none we have read or heard of has accused the society of in any manner being subversive, so what? It seems this is an illustration of the saying "it depends on whose ox is gored", and for that reason it might be a good idea for more of us to learn more about the organization and its contentions.

YEARS AGO
 Nov. 30, 1951—A reduction cratic Club, was elected to the position of president of the club. He was elected by a vote of 10 to 2 over his opponent, Allen Markley, who

HUNTERS, TAKE CARE - Police Chief Alcine Soucier points to the hole from which a bullet of a Japanese-type Army rifle traveled about one foot over the head of Mrs. Myron Smith as she slept early the other morning, apparently having ricocheted after it struck the St. Charles Street residence. The inch-long bullet found on the half floor after another Hoochet apparently was fired by hunters in the old sand pit off Conrad Lane, about a mile away. Chief Soucier noted the incident points up the need for careful use of firearms at all times, even in what seems like open country.

Only a Study Our Readers Write

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

We will appreciate it if you will publish this letter we have written to Mr. John Dambornio, editor of the Hancock County Eagle. The text follows:

"This is in response to your editorial last week wherein you stated the Bay St. Louis Jaycees suggested that Bay St. Louis and Waveland merge into one city under one name. This, of course, is untrue.

"Each individual of the Jaycees is encouraged to speak up.
 When anything is brought up at a general membership meeting, before any action is taken, it is given to a study group.

"The Jaycee organization at this time is not suggesting the merger of the two communities, but has only formed a study group to determine the feasibility of having one city.

"The Jaycees at this time are neither speaking for or against such a merger.

"The Jaycees cannot take action for or against this project until the study group makes its report to the general membership. We appreciate your interest and will add your comments in the report given.

"We realize that there might be a few people who will not be able to read the reply to your editorial, therefore we are taking the liberty of mailing a copy of this letter to the Editor of the Sea Coast Echo.

"Sincerely yours,
 THOMAS O. LOGUE, JR.
 National Director, Jaycees."

BY RAE COPE HD7-5897

Two happy and surprised couples, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Miller, daughter Mary, and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Blumenshine, all of Washington, Ill. who had been on motor trips around the country without the others' knowledge met by accident in a N. O. restaurant recently. . . mutual friends, Nick and Ann Carabajal of New Orleans and Beach Blvd. invited them over to enjoy this beautiful part of the U.S.A. and took them fishing, crabbing, etc. which they conceded was the most fascinating experience of their vacations.

Holiday guests of Rosemary Hargrave were her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McElroy and Mrs. Rosie Strickland, all of Shreveport. . . who enjoyed shopping trips to N. O. and visiting other (leisure) berabour, interspersed with "just jolting" periods to the sunshine on Rosie's enclosed porch. . .

Other guests of Rosie's during the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bolles of New Orleans who added much to the festivities on Water St.

On A Florida Trip

Recent visitors to Florida, were Mr. and Mrs. William Booty daughter Ronda, Tony McElveen of Foley, Fla., and George Green of Bay St. Louis. . . They were weekend house guests of Tony's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Major McElveen in Foley.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tangle were guests last week of Mrs. Tonglet's sister, Mrs. Rita Stern and Miss Bernice Fortier when they enjoyed a triple celebration—Bernie's birthday fell on Thanksgiving day and Mrs. Tonglet's the following day. They returned from New Orleans Saturday.

Mrs. Ben Peterson and son Robert, left Mr. Peterson's bedside long enough to absorb some sunshine while they and other sons here furnished up the grounds neglected during Mr. Peterson's illness in Veterans' Hospital in N. O. . . Daughter Mattie entertained at a family dinner on Saturday and daughter Betty and husband Frank had a family dinner for them Sunday. Mr. Peterson's condition remains about the same.

Following the precedent of the past four years, Bea and Louis Wessner had Honorable Hughes join them on Thanksgiving day.

More Thanksgiving Guests

Coming over from Algiers to join Mr. and Mrs. J. Saleeby on the big day was Karl, his wife Alice, grandson John, his wife Macie and son Jack, and from Orange, Texas, came granddaughter Bonnie and husband Roland to join the clan.

Taking only one day out on account of flu, daughter Shirley, husband S. J. and sons spent Saturday only with the Havard Burleighs. . . Havard's sister and brother-in-law, the Otis Dimmicks on U. S. 90 were dinner hosts to the Burleighs on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Yost and daughter Susie were hosts at several parties during the holidays, when their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Yost, children Madeline, Leslie and Andy; Mrs. J. Yost, sr. Mrs. T. Dufour, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simmons, Mrs. Russell Barnes and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Herbig. . . most of whom were present at the lovely Thanksgiving dinner party when they highlighted the occasion by jointly celebrating Madeline's and Frank Simmons' birthday.

Mrs. F. O. McCoy is spending a few days with the M. Bundy's in Long Beach.

The glistening lineas, the beauty of the yellow, gold and bronze chrysanthemums gracing the altar of St. Ann's Catholic Church invited one to pay solemn reverence as Rev. Father M. J. Costello said mass Sunday.

Betsy and John Klein are expecting the stark are Beverly and Billy Zimmerman.

Varied and imaginative indeed were the costumes worn at the shipwreck party Saturday night at the K. C. Hall. Mrs. George Heitzmann's outfit won first place in the women's judging. Leroy Luke was the masculine winner. Lillian and Albert Grasse and Beulah and Sidney Bourgeois from Waveland attended. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Welton and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rupp of New Orleans were among out-of-town guests.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY

Three spotted dogs dashing about in the surf barking an imaginary sea-cats taking advantage of the people-less beach—a drying shrimp net gracefully dropped from the branches of an enormous oak tree and a pink ribbon of vapor trailing an ascending jet borrowing radiance from the sunnier's haze. The shrill yipping of dogs that pre-tells an approaching train of white-tails and the gay horn blowing of a passing wedding party.

Miss Carol Carver Becomes Bride of Anthony Trapani

The marriage of Miss Carol Jean Carver to Anthony A. Trapani, Jr., was quietly solemnized at 10 a.m. Saturday at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Rev. Michael Kelly officiated at the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with white gladioli and tapers.

Miss Carver is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. A. Carver of Bay St. Louis and Mr. Trapani is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anthony A. Trapani.

The bride, escorted by her brother, wore a chapel length white dress, the fitted bodice of ruffled lace featured a bateau neckline, three-quarter length sleeves; the very full skirt was of chiffon. A waist-length veil fell from her seed pearl and satin pillbox and she carried a nosegay with a bouquet of tiny white sweetheart roses. Her only jewelry was a diamond pendant, a gift of the groom.

Miss Dianna Carver was her aunt's only attendant. Her pale green gown de sole gown was fashioned along the lines of the bride's, her hairpiece was of feathers in the same pale green, as were her accessories. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

Frank Trapani was his brother's best man.

A small reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Kenny. A white linen and lace appliqued cloth covered the table which was decorated with a centerpiece of daisies, lilies of the valley and maiden-hair ferns, flanked by two candleabras. The four-tiered cake was surrounded by a raft of white candles and daisies. Daisies and ferns also were used on the buffet. Assisting Mrs. Kenny in serving the guests, members of the immediate families and a few close friends, were Mrs. Lou Monti, Mrs. Andrew Carver and Mrs. Frank Trapani.

For traveling to Miami, Fla., Mrs. Trapani chose a bottle green wool suit with pink collar, winter white accessories and her bridal carriage. They will live in Castle Manor, New Orleans, on their return.

Travirca Wins 1st In Turkey Shoot

J. N. Travirca won first prize in the turkey shoot sponsored by St. Stanislaus Shrine Club last Sunday at the Stanislaus Stadium.

Other winners were Mike Gore, second; Louis Jaguillard, third; and N. A. Peruchero, fourth.

Six special matches were held during the regular match intermissions. Winners of these were Reuben Ruiz, Lou Monti, J. N. Travirca, Men Glesch and Irvin Nacales, two.

Lloyd Lohner, chairman for the affair, expressed appreciation to all those supporting the shoot.

Hawks Win Opener In Poplarville Play

North Central's rugged Hawks built up a 19-2 first quarter lead and fought an even terms the rest of the way in defeating Brooklyn 70-52 Monday night in first-round action in the week-long annual Poplarville cage tournament, first of the new season.

Center Lionel Hods led the Hawks to their win, their second in two attempts, scoring 19 points. Guard O. J. Peterson was next in the well-balanced scoring parade with 10 markers. The North Central quintet led 39-25 at halftime and 54-36 after three quarters.

Lumberton eliminated the North Central Hawkettes from further participation with a 52-38 win. Gloria Ladner led all scorers for Lumberton with 28 points, while Janelle Ladner hit

Two Necaises In Cage Slots At Pearl River

Two of North Central's fabled Necaise boys will be among returnees on Pearl River Junior College's basketball team which opens its 1961-62 season at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Poplarville when they host the Southeastern Baptists from Laurel.

Berny Necaise, of Kila, who was captain of the 1960 state high school championship squad, will utilize his 5 feet 8 inches at guard. Wayne Necaise, 6'6" from Sellers, will be at forward.

Five other returnees to help bolster Coach Jack Gallagher's squad are George Magee, a 6'5" center from Prentiss; Freddie Renfrey, a 6'8" forward from Newark, New Jersey; Bill Strain, another 6'8" center from Covington, La.; Austin Anderson, 6' guard from Hub, and Willard Clark, a 6' guard from West Macon.

Stanislaus to Open Cage Play Tuesday

St. Stanislaus Rockchawers open their basketball season Tuesday night here against Pico-yune of the strong Big Eight Conference.

Brother Ralph, coach of this year's Rockchawers, is faced with a shortage of height, and has only two returning letterman around which to build a team. Waldo Cocero and Mike Gore, both centers, are the only returnees from last year's quintet which finished strongly in the lower part of the season.

Ten regular season games are on the schedule continued by Athletic Director Brother Dacien this week with a possibility of another to be added. In addition, the Rocks will participate in four tournaments.

The Stanislaus schedule list: Dec. 5, Pico-yune, here; Dec. 6-9, Gulfport Tournament; Dec. 13, Our Lady of Victory, here; Dec. 19, St. John's, here; Jan. 5, Our Lady of Victory at Pascagoula; Jan. 9, Pico-yune, there; Jan. 10-13 - Harrison Central Tournament; Jan. 19, Notre Dame at Biloxi; Jan. 20, Bay High at SSC; Jan. 24-27, Bay High Tournament; Jan. 28, St. John's at Gulfport; Feb. 6, Notre Dame, here; Feb. 7-10 - Sub-district Tournament, and Feb. 12, Pass Christian, there.

All home varsity games will begin at 8 p.m. with the junior varsity games to start at 6:45 p.m. Coaching the JV team is Billy Rhodes and coaching the junior high and grammar school squads is Buddy Pitale.

Brother Dacien said also that the Rockchawers will probably play Bay High Thursday, Dec. 21, at the Tiger gym.

Holes And Leaks

The call has gone out to federal tax gathering agencies to plug the loopholes wherever found and collect all sums due the government, that are escaping payment. Going deeper into the red, the government does need every cent that is coming to it.

And while government plans this loophole-plugging campaign, it should also stop the leaks within government itself.

Government expenditures in fiscal 1961 amounted to nearly $900 per person, equivalent to 27 per cent of the gross national product. And the federal debt's "temporary" limit was boosted to $298 billion. Facing its biggest peacetime budget, the next annual deficit might reach $10 billion.

The staggering figures on government expense, debt and deficits are no longer understood by those who toil and sweat, who have begun to believe that government in some miraculous way manufactures money. Not having to show a profit, raising taxes or borrowing more money to meet its obligations, government has never had to stop the leaks. Any private business operating like that would soon go bankrupt.

These are dangerous times. Challenged with the huge growing costs of the cold war, threatened by communism in this space age, every responsible citizen should dedicate more of his time and effort to understanding the needs and the purpose of the kind of government he is willing to pay for.

As local, state and federal governments all spend more than they collect in taxes, they make up the difference by going deeper into debt, shifting the burden to their children. Much of the increase in governmental expense has nothing whatsoever to do with the national defense. The bulk of it is for new and expanding domestic programs, public welfare and foreign aid, in the spending of which there is extensive extravagance and reckless waste.

So we need to stop the leaks as well as to plug the holes, that the nation may remain financially strong to meet its mounting responsibilities in tough times. Solvency is essential to the preservation of the Union.

K. OF C. NEWS

The council extends a cordial welcome to Joseph L. Marochio transferring from No. 4547 of New Orleans.

Next regular meeting of the Council will be Monday. All applications for membership must be on file not later than 8 p.m. on this date. The exemplification of the first three degrees will be held in Pass Christian Dec. 10.

Several members are still on the sick list. John Westers was out of the VA hospital in N. O. with a three-day pass and will be at the hospital for several days longer; Andy Becker is expected home within the week and Ivan Bradford has been discharged and is now at home. Nelius Favre is back in the local hospital for further check-up.

Henry Lang's committee will meet tonight. Sunday the Council will attend 7 a.m. mass at Our Lady of Gulf. Breakfast will follow at the K C Home. The camera was not purchased so Henry says he will have a full menu.

Willard Gavigane and his fishing buddy, Jerry Poolson, had little luck up the river last Saturday evening. He says they lost more than they landed which must have been true as they brought only five small ones home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Cook of Little Rock, Ark. spent the Thanksgiving holidays with Mr. and Mrs. George Washington Anderson. Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Anderson are sisters. F. L. is a 4th Degree member of the Little Rock Council.

Happy birthday to Carl Banderet, Nov. 14. A little late but not forgotten.

The council can use a second hand filing cabinet—at a reasonable cost—if you have one not in use please let it be known.

There will be no Fourth Degree meeting during December. Next meeting will be on the fourth Tuesday of January, 1962.

Trustees election will be Monday night.

Fourth Degree members will attend mass and receive communion at 7 a.m. mass, with the 3rd Degree next Sunday.

Arthur Chapman, faithful navigator of the Fourth Degree, announces that since the recent

Holiday Sale

Plans for a holiday budget sale Dec. 8 and 9 were made at the monthly business meeting of the Woman's Society for Christian Service of Main Street Methodist Church when it met Wednesday morning at the church.

The sale will be in the educational building with Mrs. Otis Winnard as chairman.

Mrs. George Schilling gave the program on the World Council of Churches. A luncheon followed.

banquet was so successful it will be a permanent semi-annual affair—one in the spring and one during the fall.

All members holding applications for new members are urged to turn them in to Grand Knight Gerard Freeman prior to Monday night. Since a time element is involved none will be accepted after Dec. 4 in preparation for the initiation on Dec. 10.

All prospective members will be contacted personally for special meeting next week prior to their initiation. Each will be contacted by the Council's Insurance Agent Ed Murtagh.
